Beloved Children:

As you enjoy the Beloved Uriel's description of these scenes at inner levels in which each one of you have participated countless numbers of times, may I ask if you will join your prayers with Ours that these hopeful - and for the most part enthusiastic - spirits may find joyful and happy parents as well as comfortable and harmonious homes awaiting their advent on the Earth plane. You will see the necessity for this selfless service on your part, dear ones, it being evident that these incoming souls must have peaceful and happy surroundings if they are to render the assistance to the planet and their fellowman which prompted the application for embodiment of the majority of them at this time.

Blessings and Love,

MAHA CHOHAN

Address by the Beloved Archangel Uriel given on May 8, 1955 - Part 4

Viewed from a distance, this great star-shaped formation of human souls presents a most magnificent aspect, each section appearing in the color of the Ray under which it is developing. Last year, all the participants wore pink, but this year it was decided that each individual wear the color of his or her Ray; the seven Great Chohans appearing in the deepest and truest color of His respective Ray.

Every member of this vast concourse of souls faces inward toward the circle in the center of the star where the seven Chohans stand facing outward toward Their people. Those closest in proximity to the Masters are the trained, developed chelas who will be the leaders of the future in their particular fields of endeavor.

Facing the Master Morya, Mighty Chohan of the First Ray, are the statesmen and governmental heads of tomorrow. These are dressed in deep sapphire blue, blending into the lighter shades as this section of the star reaches the outermost point.

Next we have the Beloved Kuthumi, Great Chohan of the Second Ray. This Master is in deep gold, as are also His trained chelas in the first rows who are the teachers and educators of the future. The gold in this section gradually changes to almost white at this point.

Facing Paul, known as the Venetian, Beloved Chohan of the Third Ray, are the exponents of Universal Brotherhood - the Utopia that is to manifest on Earth. In this group also are all those interested in the various arts. The color of this section runs from the deep, deep rose of the Master and His close disciples to the very pale pink at the farthest point.

Confronting Serapis, Great Chohan of the Fourth Ray, are all those vitally interested in the Resurrection and Ascension, the ones nearest to Him, of course, being His trained chelas. The majority of souls in this class will gravitate to the esoteric circles of the future. This section is all white, from the sparkling garments of those in front to the almost eggshell shade farther out.

The great Hilarion, Chohan of the Fifth Ray, is next. Both He and His trained chelas in the front row are in deep emerald green, graduating to the paler shades near the point. In this group are the future scientists, missionaries, men of medicine and inventors, the hope of the New Age.

Beloved Uriel's address is continued in Bulletin No. 18.
